

Bargoed Town Council

Anti-Harassment and Bullying Policy

Introduction

Our aim is to provide a working environment that respects the rights of each employee and where colleagues treat each other with respect. Any behaviour that undermines this aim is unacceptable. Bargoed Town Council does not tolerate any form of harassment or bullying under any circumstances. While implementing and upholding the policy is the duty of all Councillors and Employees to ensure that harassment does not occur in Bargoed Town Council.

Principles and procedures

The following procedure has been designed to inform employees about the type of behaviour that is unacceptable and provides employees who are the victims of harassment and bullying with a means of redress. Bargoed Town Council will not tolerate harassment or bullying of:

- job applicants
- employees
- contractors
- agency workers
- the self-employed
- ex-employees.

This policy also applies to work related functions which are held outside of normal working hours, either on or off Bargoed Town Council premises, such as Christmas parties, leaving celebrations, working lunches, etc.

Harassment

Harassment is unwanted conduct related to a relevant protected characteristic (an area covered by discrimination legislation) which has the purpose or effect of violating an individual's dignity, or creating an intimidating, hostile, degrading, humiliating or offensive working environment for them.

Harassment will also occur where a colleague is treated less favourably because he or she has rejected or refused to submit to sex-based harassment, sexual harassment or gender reassignment harassment.

Where it cannot be established that there was an intention to offend, conduct will only be regarded as violating a person's dignity or creating an intimidating, hostile, degrading, humiliating or offensive environment if, taking all the circumstances into account it would be reasonable to come to that conclusion.

People can be subjected to harassment on a wide variety of grounds. Some examples are:

- sex-based (purely because of gender) or sexual (sexual in nature)
- sexual orientation
- trans-sexualism (gender reassignment)
- being married or a civil partner
- race, nationality, ethnic origin, national origin or skin colour
- disability itself or a reason relating to it
- age
- employment status, eg part-time, fixed-term
- membership or non-membership of a trade union
- carrying out health and safety duties
- religion or religious beliefs or lack of either
- deeply held personal beliefs or lack of them

- political beliefs
- criminal record
- health, eg aids/HIV sufferers
- physical characteristics
- social class
- willingness to challenge harassment – being ridiculed or victimised for raising a complaint.

Harassment is normally characterised by more than one incident of unacceptable behaviour, particularly if it reoccurs, once it has been made clear by the victim that they consider it offensive. One incident may constitute harassment, however, if it is sufficiently serious. Harassment on any grounds, including the above, will not be tolerated. Harassment at work is unlawful under the Equality Act 2010.

Bargoed Town Council together with any managers or supervisors who fail to take steps to prevent harassment or investigate complaints may be held liable for their unlawful actions and be required to pay damages to the victim, as will the employee who has committed the act of harassment. There is no limit to the compensation that can be awarded in employment tribunals for acts of harassment.

Bargoed Town Council will also be liable for harassment that comes from a third party (eg a customer or supplier) if that harassment occurs on at least two occasions, the Council is aware that it has happened and does nothing to stop it happening.

Harassment on any grounds is also a criminal offence, primarily under the Protection From Harassment Act 1997. This means that colleagues who suffer harassment may contact the police, in the case of harassment from fellow employees or harassment by third parties. Those found guilty face fines or periods of imprisonment of up to two years.

Additionally, an employee harassed by a colleague may sue that colleague personally for the damage and distress caused. Bargoed Town Council may be held vicariously liable under the Protection from Harassment Act for any harassment perpetrated by an employee whenever the behaviour in question is closely connected to the employment relationship.

Examples of harassment

Employees must recognise that what is acceptable to one employee may not be acceptable to another. Examples of harassment include:

- Verbal – crude language, open hostility, offensive jokes, suggestive remarks, innuendoes, rude or vulgar comments, malicious gossip and offensive songs.
- Non-verbal – wolf-whistles, obscene gestures, sexually suggestive posters/calendars, pornographic material (both paper-based and generated on a computer, including offensive screen-savers), graffiti, offensive letters, offensive emails, text messages on mobile phones and offensive objects.
- Physical – unnecessary touching, patting, pinching or brushing against another employee's body, intimidating behaviour, assault and physical coercion.
- Coercion – pressure for sexual favours (eg to get a job or be promoted) and pressure to participate in political, religious or trade union groups, etc.
- Isolation or non-cooperation and exclusion from social activities.
- Intrusion – following, pestering, spying, etc.

Bullying

Bullying is a gradual wearing down process comprising a sustained form of psychological abuse that makes victims feel demeaned and inadequate. Bullying is defined as offensive, intimidating, malicious or insulting behaviour, or an abuse or misuse of power, which has the purpose, or effect of intimidating, belittling and humiliating the recipient, leading to loss of self-esteem for the victim and ultimately self-questioning his or her worth in the workplace and society as a whole.

Examples of bullying

Workplace bullying can range from extreme forms such as violence and intimidation to less obvious actions, like deliberately ignoring someone at work. These can be split into two categories:

The obvious:

- shouting or swearing at people in public and private
- persistent criticism
- ignoring or deliberately excluding people
- persecution through threats and instilling fear
- spreading malicious rumours
- constantly undervaluing effort
- dispensing disciplinary action that is totally unjustified
- spontaneous rages, often over trivial matters.

The less obvious:

- withholding information or supplying incorrect information
- deliberately sabotaging or impeding work performance
- constantly changing targets
- setting individuals up to fail by imposing impossible deadlines
- levelling unfair criticism about performance the night before an employee goes on holiday
- removing areas of responsibility and imposing menial tasks
- blocking applications for holiday, promotion or training.

The actions listed must be viewed in terms of the distress they cause the individual. It is the perceptions of the recipient that determine whether any action or statement can be viewed as bullying.

The impact of harassment and bullying

Harassment and bullying can lead to illness, absenteeism, an apparent lack of commitment, poor performance and resignation.

The damage, tension and conflict that harassment and bullying creates should not be underestimated. The result is not just poor morale, but higher labour turnover, reduced productivity, divided teams, poor service and poor product quality.

Public image can be badly damaged when incidents of harassment and bullying occur, particularly when they attract media attention. This can result in a loss of customers.

Enforcement

Any harassment or bullying will be classed as gross misconduct, for which employees may be summarily dismissed.

All employees will be informed of Bargoed Town Council policy towards harassment and bullying at induction training and through communication and awareness programmes. It will be stressed that all complaints of harassment will be treated seriously.

Bargoed Town Council expects all managers and supervisors to ensure that this policy and procedure is adhered to at all times and expects all employees to respect the dignity of their colleagues. The policy will be regularly monitored by the HR/Staffing Committee to ensure that it is achieving its aims and that managers and employees are confident about its application.

Training, communication and awareness

Bargoed Town Council recognises that a written policy is not sufficient to eliminate harassment and bullying. Prominent and regular communication, training and awareness sessions are important to ensure that all employees:

- Understand our commitment to prevent harassment and bullying.
- Understand their responsibilities and role in the process.
- Know how to seek advice and guidance.
- Know how to make complaints and are confident they will be handled effectively.

Bargoed Town Council is committed to communicating the policy effectively through:

- training and awareness programmes for all staff at all levels
- a section in the staff handbook
- line manager support to guide employees through the policy and procedures
- induction.

Anti-Harassment and Bullying Procedures

Bargoed Town Council recognises the sensitive nature of harassment and bullying. Employees who believe they are being harassed or bullied may wish to discuss their situation before deciding what action to take. Bargoed Town Council operates an open door policy to discuss workplace problems and employees can discuss the matter with their manager on an informal basis.

Bargoed Town Council recognises that this may not always be appropriate in the circumstances, however. If this is the case, employees can discuss the situation with the next higher level of management or with the Town Clerk.

Line managers will:

- ensure the conversation remains confidential as far as possible
- listen sympathetically
- help individuals consider objectively what has happened
- discuss what outcome the individual would wish to see
- draw attention to available procedures and options
- inform the individual of the legal liabilities involved
- help weigh up the alternatives, but without pressure to adopt any particular course
- assist the individual in dealing with the situation, if they ask for help.

Confidentiality will be maintained as far as possible. If an employee decides not to take any action to deal with the problem and the circumstances described are very serious, however, Bargoed Town Council reserves the right to investigate the situation.

It has an overall duty of care to ensure the safety of all employees who may be adversely affected by the alleged harasser's/ bully's behaviour.

Solutions

It is for the individual to decide which route to take in solving any problem that has occurred. There are two types of solution available – informal and formal.

Informal

Employees can choose to solve the matter themselves by approaching the harasser or bully, telling him or her that their behaviour is unwelcome and that it must stop. Otherwise a formal complaint will be made using the procedure outlined below. If victims would find it difficult or embarrassing to raise the issue directly with the person creating the problem, support can be sought from a work colleague or a union representative who can support the victim when speaking to the harasser or bully.

A third option, is that the victim can put his or her views in writing to the harasser or bully, telling him or her that their behaviour is unacceptable and that it must stop.

Formal

Where informal solutions fail, or serious harassment or bullying occurs, employees can bring a formal complaint in the form of a grievance, with the procedure adapted to take account of the sensitivities of such situations. Each step and action under the formal complaints procedure will be taken without unreasonable delay.

Complaints will be investigated swiftly and confidentially while ensuring that the rights of both the alleged victim and the alleged harasser or bully are protected.

Employees and witnesses can be assured that they will not be ridiculed or victimised for making, or assisting a colleague in making, a complaint, even if it is not upheld, as long as it is made in good faith. Everyone involved in the investigation, including witnesses, will be required to maintain confidentiality – a failure to do so will be a disciplinary matter. The procedure is as follows:

Step 1: Lodging a statement of grievance and conducting an investigation:

- the complaint should be put in writing, outlining the alleged incidents, when they occurred, the harm caused, the names of any witnesses and the name of the alleged harasser or bully
- if the victim would find it distressing to set out their complaint in writing then he or she should contact the Town Clerk who will provide assistance
- the written complaint should initially be lodged with the employee's manager. If this would not be appropriate in the circumstances, it should be lodged with the relevant member of the HR/Staffing Committee
- an independent investigator will be appointed who has had no previous involvement with the situation and who will conduct investigatory interviews with the complainant, the individual against whom the complaint has been lodged and any relevant witnesses. the right to accompaniment will be provided to all those interviewed
- the investigator will submit a full report to the Town Clerk, or if not appropriate, the Chair of the HR/Staffing Committee

Step 2: Grievance meeting:

- the employee will be invited to a meeting with the Town Clerk, or if not appropriate, the Chair of the HR/Staffing Committee to discuss the grievance and the result of the independent investigator's report
- the employee will be provided with the right to accompaniment.
- the timing and location of the meeting must be reasonable
- the meeting will not take place until the the Town Clerk, or if not appropriate, the Chair of the HR/Staffing Committee has had a reasonable opportunity to consider the information contained in the employee's grievance letter and the independent investigator's report
- the employee must take all reasonable steps to attend the meeting
- the meeting must be conducted in a manner that enables the employee to explain his or her case and the Town Clerk, or if not appropriate, the Chair of the HR/Staffing Committee to set out the results of the investigation
- after the meeting the employee will be informed of the decision as to the grievance and notify the employee of the right to appeal against that decision if the employee is not satisfied with it.

Step 3: Hearing the appeal:

- if the employee wishes to appeal, s/he must inform the Mayor
- the employee will be invited to attend a further meeting
- the employee will be provided with the right to accompaniment
- the timing and location of the meeting will be reasonable

- the employee must take all reasonable steps to attend the meeting
- the meeting will be conducted in a manner that enables both sides to explain their cases
- after the appeal meeting the Mayor will inform the employee of the final decision, within five working days.

Full records will be kept of the grievance proceedings and copies of meeting records given to the complainant.

If, at the end of Step 1, the complaint is upheld the matter will be passed to the appropriate line manager to conduct a disciplinary hearing with the person who perpetrated the harassment or bullying.

Continuing to work together

Whether a complaint is upheld or not, Bargoed Town Council recognises that it may be difficult for the employees concerned to continue to work in close proximity to one another during the investigation or following the outcome of the proceedings. If this is the case Bargoed Town Council will consider a voluntary request from either party to transfer to another job or work location. A transfer cannot always be guaranteed, however.

Monitoring

Where harassment or bullying has been found to have occurred and the perpetrator remains in employment, regular checks will be made to ensure that harassment has stopped and that there has been no victimisation or retaliation against the victim.

Bargoed Town Council will also ensure that the employee who committed the act of harassment or bullying is not victimised in any way.

Malicious complaints

Where a complaint is blatantly untrue and has been brought out of spite, or for some other unacceptable motive, the complainant will be subject to Bargoed Town Council's disciplinary procedure, as will any witnesses who have deliberately misled Bargoed Town Council during its investigations.

Complaints to an employment tribunal

While Bargoed Town Council trusts that employees will use the internal procedure to resolve any concerns they have about harassment, claims can be lodged with an employment tribunal where harassment is on the grounds of:

- sex
- gender reassignment
- race
- disability
- sexual orientation
- religion
- belief
- age.
